"BEN" LINDSEY TO APPEAR TODAY TO ANSWER CHARGES

Disorderly Conduct Case Is Outgrowth of Fracas in Cathedral

AGAINST MANNING

Former Judge Says Bishop Made False Statements To Congregation

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—(INS)—A little man with a moustache and spectacles was to appear in court here today to answer disorderly charges. He is former Judge Ben Lindsey of Denver, exponent of "companionate marriage."

It all came about after the ejection yesterday of Judge Lindsey amid scenes of wild excitement from the Protestant Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine, where he had leaped upon a table before the congregation of 4,000 to reply to Bishop Manning's attack on companionate marriage.

One woman struck Judge Lindsey as he was pulled from his perch, a man aimed a blow at his head as he was hustled down a side aisle by detectives and ushers as the crowd cried "Throw him out." "Arrest him."

Detectives took Lindsey to a police station and after Bishop Manning declined to prefer charges, police made the charges themselves.

Last Monday the New York Churchmen's Association permitted Judge Lindsey to deliver an address before it on companionate marriage, voting to do so by an overwhelming majority after Bishop Manning had requested the invitation be withdrawn.

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 8.—(INS)—Bishop Manning is a "would-be tyrant."

That was the characterization given the New York church leader by former Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Colorado as he boarded a train here for New York, where he must appear in court today to answer disorderly charges, growing out of the clergyman's attack on the former Judge at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

Lindsey, who spoke here last night at the Jewish Community Center, was not greatly concerned at the row with Bishop Manning except that he was worried about being able to keep a speaking engagement in Scranton, Pa. He said his arraignment today might interfere with it.

He spoke freely to reporters of the Bishop's attack and his ejection from the church by attendants and admitted he was sorry he had interrupted the Bishop while he was in prayer.

IDEA OF DEMANDS MET BY ITALIAN WELFARE ASSOCIATION IS GAINED THROUGH EXCELLENT ANNUAL REPORT OF DISPOSAL OF ITS FUNDS

Fourteen Families, Including 26 Adults and 67 Children, Were Given Assistance — During Past Three Weeks Calls for Relief Have Been Great, Says President Anthony Russo

A report of the work which the Italian Welfare Association is doing and some idea of the demands which are likely to be made upon it during the present winter was given at the dinner held yesterday inaugurating the annual drive for funds.

"Those engaged in welfare work are always criticised," said Anthony Russo, president of the association, "some people have the idea that those engaged in the solicitation of funds for welfare work keep half of the money thus collected for themselves. If such a thing is done those folks should be criticised and driven out of any organization."

"Those engaged in soliciting funds for our association are in many instances laborers and they do not receive one cent for their efforts. I do not get a salary, and contribute according to my means the same as anyone else."

Mr. Russo then gave an account of the expenditures of the association for the past year, which was as follows:

"A total of 14 families were given assistance. In this group there were 26 adults and 67 children."

PHONE CO. CONFIDENT OF PROSPERITY RETURN

Nearly $35,000,000 is Scheduled for Disbursement During 1931

BRISTOL IS INCLUDED

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 8.—Confidence that business conditions will return to normalcy in Pennsylvania within a reasonable time is reflected in budget figures made public here today by Leonard H. Kinnard, president of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, for new construction by his company throughout the State in 1931.

Nearly $35,000,000 is scheduled for disbursement in a State-wide construction program to meet Pennsylvania's telephone requirements during 1931, Mr. Kinnard announced.

That the telephone company does not intend to mark time in its plant expansion and service betterment program is evidenced by the fact that this sum exceeds by nearly $5,000,000 the average annual expenditure for new construction during the five-year period from 1926 to 1930, inclusive.

Couple Are Married At Residence in Hulmeville

HULMEVILLE, Dec. 8.—In a wedding ceremony performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. McCarthy, Bellevue avenue, Saturday evening at eight o'clock, the McCarthy's daughter, Miss Marie R. McCarthy, became the wife of Charles E. Haas, Bustleton. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Henry Cunningham, pastor of Langhorne Presbyterian Church.

The attendants of the couple were Mrs. John Mitchener, and Clayton Hill, both of Bustleton. A large number of relatives and friends were in attendance at the attractive ceremony.

The bride was attired in a dress of white satin, and her veil of lace measured four yards in length. Her foot-wear was of white, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Mitchener, the attendant of the former Miss McCarthy, was garbed in a gown of poudre blue chiffon, and about her hair was placed a band of silver brocade leaves. Mrs. Mitchener's bouquet was of red roses.

A reception followed the ceremony, at the McCarthy home, 50 guests being served at a wedding supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Haas are now on a honeymoon trip, and plan to be away one week. They will reside in Rhawnhurst. The couple has been presented with a large variety of lovely gifts.

FRANKFORD DEFEATS BRISTOL A. A. ELEVEN

Visitors Take Advantage of Every Break and Win Contest at Eddington

FINAL SCORE IS 20 TO 7

By Leon Schiffer

An aroused Frankford team, taking advantage of every break, defeated the Bristol A. A. eleven at Eddington field yesterday by the score of 20-7.

A crowd of more than 1,000 football enthusiasts saw the final game of the year for the Blue and Gold.

Walls was the scoring ace for the visitors, with a pair of touchdowns to his credit. Galvin was the other scorer besides adding an extra point to Frankford's total. Walls drop-kicked the other extra point.

Bristol's lone marker of the game was scored early in the fourth period only after Barrett had received a long pass from Trot which advanced the oval from Frankford's 40 yard line to the latter's 5 yard marker, where Trot succeeded in wriggling over the goal line for the Blue and Gold's only tally during the entire game.

Barrett converted the extra point by receiving a short pass from Trot.

Frankford broke the scoring ice early in the first period. Gaining the ball on the Blue and Gold's 30 yard line when Coleman, of Bristol, fumbled Walls' opening kick, the visitors began a drive which gained in momentum and which terminated only after Galvin had succeeded in fighting his way over the goal line for the Orange and Black's first touchdown. Galvin added the extra point, receiving a short pass from Walls. Later in the period Frankford again received another break when the local eleven was penalized 15 yards for the taking of a substitute and the ball was retired into the visitors' possession on the Blue and Gold's 10 yard line, where Walls succeeded in fighting his way over the goal line to add another six pointer to Frankford's total. Walls also converted the extra point.

The second quarter was scoreless although the visitors showed their superiority, due to their advantage in weight over the local boys. Gaining the ball at midfield, Bristol began an advance to start the period which traveled to the Orange and Black's 45-yard line. Here Trot tried a pass to Barrett, which failed and Frankford received possession of the ball on its own 45-yard line. Shortly thereafter, the visitors plunged to the Blue and Gold's 10 yard stripe. However, the local boys refused to give way and the (Continued on Page 4)

Walter McGuire, World War Veteran, Meets Instant Death in Car Driven by Life-Long Friend --- Driver is Committed to Jail to Await Action of Coroner --- Near Collapse in Hospital When Informed of Death of McGuire

SOUTH LANGHORNE, Dec. 8.—A man was almost instantly killed, another injured and a girl seriously hurt in two auto crashes on the Lincoln Highway, near here, yesterday.

Dead: Walter McGuire, 34, of 2938 North Twenty-second street, Philadelphia.

Injured: Frank Parkhill, 40, of 2914 N. Croskey street, Philadelphia.

Miss Jeanette Billson, 20, of 3052 North Twenty-fifth street, Philadelphia.

McGuire and Parkhill were riding in a car which was driven by Parkhill. According to State Highway Patrolmen from the barracks here, Parkhill pulled around a car ahead of him and immediately in front of that car was a truck. Cars approaching from the opposite direction crowded Parkhill and he pulled to the right and crashed into a pole.

FOUR CROYDON MEN CHARGED WITH LARCENY

Taken Into Custody by State Police for Theft of Pump

ARE NOW UNDER BAIL

CROYDON, Dec. 8.—Four Croydon residents, arrested by state police of the Morrisville barracks Saturday, admitted the theft of an electric pump from a property here in the forepart of October, and are now being held under bail for court.

Those taken into custody: Charles Grafenstine, Howard J. Robinson, James Quigley, and James Clark.

The quartet admitted to the state police officers that they had stolen a pump from what is known as the White home, here, which property is owned by Bryan and Brunner, real estate agents of Philadelphia, said pump being taken from the property on October 6th.

A charge of larceny and receiving stolen goods was lodged against the four, and each was released under $500 bail.

Celebrates Anniversary By Entertaining Friends

Mrs. Russell Force, 329 Monroe street, celebrated her birthday anniversary Saturday evening by entertaining a number of friends at her home. The evening was spent playing pinocle and four tables of players were arranged. Favors were given to Eugene Whitmore, Mrs. Eugene Whitmore, C. Webber, Mrs. Stanley Keers, Mrs. Emily Orr, Mrs. J. Moore, Mrs. Clifford Appleton, Mrs. Allen Barr and Stanley Keers.

The living and dining rooms were attractively decorated in pink and white crepe paper. At a late hour, the guests were invited to the dining-room where a delicious cold supper was served.

Those enjoying this delightful party were: Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Keers, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Whitmore, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Barr, Mr. and Mrs. C. Webber, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Appleton and daughter Margaret, Mr. and Mrs. N. Mifflin, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Force and daughter Evelyn, Mrs. Emily Orr and son Charles, Mrs. A. Moore, Miss Josephine Moore, Paul Moore.

Mrs. Force was presented with many pretty birthday gifts.

The entire right side of his machine was demolished and McGuire got the full force of the impact. He sustained a severed jugular vein, fractured skull and ribs. He was rushed to the Harriman Hospital at Bristol but was dead upon being admitted.

Parkhill was taken to the office of Dr. S. L. Ridge, where he was treated for minor cuts and bruises.

Parkhill, after receiving treatment for his injuries, was taken to the Harriman Hospital and informed of the death of his friend. Parkhill staggered to a bench and almost collapsed when he learned that his friend had died.

Parkhill is now in Bucks County Jail, where he was committed in default of $2,000 bail when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Alvey on a charge of manslaughter. Three barrels of alleged high-powered beer were found in Parkhill's machine, but pending an analysis the State Highway Patrol here brought no charge of illegal transporting liquor.

The car in which Parkhill and McGuire were returning to Philadelphia after visiting in Trenton, had just cut back into the line of traffic after passing a string of cars when Parkhill, in swerving to miss the rear of a truck, crashed into a pole.

McGuire was a veteran of the World War and unmarried.

Miss Jeanette Billson, 20 years old, of 3052 North Twenty-fifth street, Philadelphia, is the victim of the second crash. She received a fractured skull when the car in which she was riding with her fiancé hit an electric light pole after being forced off the road at Trevose. She is in the Jewish Hospital, Philadelphia, where her condition is regarded as serious.

Joseph G. Hughes, of 2336 Bonnell street, Philadelphia, who was to have wed Miss Billson next month, was the driver of the car in which the girl was injured. He told police that his car struck the pole when he was forced from the highway by a motorist who cut sharply in front of him about 4 o'clock yesterday morning. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Alvey, he was held in $800 bail to await the outcome of the girl's injuries.

Hughes' automobile hit the electric light pole with such force that it snapped a wire connected to the pole, causing the road lights near Trevose to go out. It was two hours before the break was repaired.

Erwin Wills, of Red Bank, drove his car to Morrisville yesterday to visit friends. He parked the machine on the Lincoln Highway near the house.

Late in the afternoon he heard a crash of two machines. He ran to the window and found his car off the road and somewhat damaged.

Turning his eyes to the left he noticed a car speeding off. Wills hurried to his machine, found that it could be operated, and sped after the hit-and-run driver. For a mile he pursued him, and then finally forced the car from the road.

The driver of the other machine was Walter Heil, 41 years old, of 2025 North 9th street, Philadelphia. He and his wife had been visiting relatives in Trenton.

Wills called Corporal Budinas, of the South Langhorne State Highway Patrol, and made charges against Heil. Then the officer took Heil to Bristol where he was examined by a police surgeon and pronounced under the influence of liquor.

Heil will be arraigned before Justice of the Peace Alvey at Woodbourne.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clermont, of Walnut avenue, enjoyed a show at the Maltham Theatre on Saturday evening.

Christmas Shopping

(With "MERRY")

A Cute and Cozy Outfit

IT'S cozy, alright, and it's to be found at Steinberg's Fashion Centre, 213 Mill street—a sweater and legging outfit for the small boy or girl. The one that first attracted my attention is of a light green shade, all wool. This knitted suit is set off by having the cuffs, collar and a strip down the front of the sweater, as well as parts of the leggings knit in a different stitch than the main part. The collar is high, fastening with attractive buttons and loops. A patch of bright-colored wool, just where the pocket should be, sets off the jacket part. And best of all there is a warm little cap to match. And the price of this dainty and attractive suit certainly surprised me. My Christmas gifts aren't going to be high this year, and they are going to be just as nice, if not nicer than ever.

And They Are Initialed

Marty Green, who has a fine selection of men's wear at his Mill street store, helped me in the selection of gifts for two of my male cousins. The presents are belts, one in gray and one in brown leather, and on the buckle of each are the boys' initials. I was agreeably surprised when shown the large group of offerings in the line of belts. At Green's are to be found all colors, many leathers, various styles of buckles, with many having lodge insignias on same. And the buckles are so gay, too, with bright-colored lettering, etc.

We'll Be All Decorated

I just can't wait for Christmas eve to arrive, and I really believe that before that time comes we will decorate the house with greens which we have ordered from Bristol Flower Growers, Pond street. There are wreaths in number, and they have such fine ones at the Flower Growers. Then we didn't stop until our order included four poinsettias, and some Christmas greens which we will place in conspicuous places. Christmas just doesn't seem to be Christmas unless there are the proper decorations. Of course just so the spirit is there, it will really be Christmas, but these fine greens and plants are going to make everything look as gay as everybody will feel.

A Gift for the House

Many people have gained the habit of buying a gift for the house each year, and it certainly is nice to have a new piece of furniture or some useful articles placed in the home each Yuletide. The family's gift to the house this year is to be a banjo clock, one of those dandy green ones that Factors-to-You Furniture Company is displaying in its Mill street window. Mottling on this attractive time-piece is done in gold, and the fanciful pieces of trimming are in gold, as well as a small eagle at the top. The clock measures about 20 inches in height, and the gold figures on the face are outlined in black, making them easily discernible. And we have the place picked out where this clock is to be hung. That spot has been waiting for months.

THE INTERLOCKING WORLD

Since the rapid development of modern methods of communication and transportation the world has shrunk so that, with the people of the earth continually growing larger one nation, be it ever so small and apparently insignificant, cannot turn over, nor squirm, nor stretch, nor jounce an elbow without jostling the other nations. Indeed, the interlocking relationships have become such a mazy network that it is not merely the adjacent nations on all sides which are affected by movement or movements of any given nation. But if one nation progresses, if it retrogrades, if it trembles with a convulsion, or expands with an effort or a development of any kind, all other nations, nearby and remote—even to the uttermost parts of the earth—are affected.

If one country were the sole producer or source of one necessary commodity and some disaster should reduce that production to nothing or wipe out that source, when the distributed supply in other lands should become exhausted the world would be affected in business and in living conditions by the famine in that one commodity.

And the same principle applies to nearly all articles of trade: Drought in areas in Asia has its effect on American business; a strike in England has its effect upon business in South America; legislation touching certain lines in America will mean much to Australia. The nations cannot live unto themselves—even in business. And through other interests the same principle holds with perhaps less tangible grip but with no less certainty of the fact. This is a world of people of one race of humanity—an ever-shrinking world as measured by natural or invisible ties that bind the tribes of men together.

TWO PANTS SUITS

When Europeans say of Americans that they are the most materialistic of all peoples, they mean nothing laudatory by it. When Europeans admit the people of the United States are more industrious than the people in any other country, they make it plain that they do not consider it evidence of national superiority.

European opinion has not, however, convinced the American public that materialism and industry are not sterling qualities which any nation or race might well strive for, and neither will Americans look upon the statement of the London tailor that the people of the United States are the "neatest, cleanest and best-dressed people in the world" as anything but a pretty and fully deserved compliment and perfectly natural observation for a trained visitor to make.

When Captain Garrood, whose London cleaning and pressing establishment counts among its patrons a marquis with 50 suits, very graciously and very unpatriotically (from a British viewpoint) conceded the American pants' crease to be unequalled, he stated an obvious fact but he fell far short of the whole truth when he attributed the American fastidiousness to the two-pants suit.

And yet, you could be one of the world's great men if people would only let you run things your way.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

ITEMS OF INTEREST AS CLIPPED FROM NEWSPAPER FILES

Apparently the old saying "the poor are always with us," is a true one for we find in reading a copy of the Doylestown Intelligencer dated November 27, 1880, that officers elected at the annual meeting of the Bristol Relief Association fifty years ago were as follows: President, Emmor Comly; secretary, J. Wesley Wright; treasurer, Mrs. J. Wesley Wright; directors—Joshua Pierce, C. E. Schelde, Miss F. B. Pierce, Mrs. J. M. Knox, Miss Rebecca Slack and Miss Ellen Vanuxem.

Bucks county during the latter part of November, 1880, experienced one of the coldest periods for that time of the year. The Delaware River at New Hope was said to have been frozen over and the young people were enjoying skating. People in the Doylestown section were storing their ice houses with ice from four to five inches in thickness. A few days following the cold snap a heavy snow fell and sleighing was reported to have been very good.

The shoe store of William Terheson, Bristol, was robbed of a large number of boots and shoes. The thieves succeeded in removing a heavy iron guard frame around one of the bulk windows and after this was removed they broke a hole into the window with a cobble-

The store was robbed in exactly the same manner a few months previously.

Newtown a half century ago, according to "The Intelligencer" of Saturday, October 30, 1880, was the scene of a daring robbery, during which the loss amounted to over $400. The place robbed was the Newtown post office. The large safe was blown open and the cash, amounting to $25, and postage stamps amounting to $375 were taken. The safe also contained $500 of the original first mortgage bonds of the Newtown railroad. Two strange men were seen in Newtown several days before the robbery and it was also noticed that a stranger came into the store in which the post office was kept.

The report of the steward at a meeting of the Directors of the Poor fifty years ago showed that the sale of calves, pigs, hides, etc., for the month amounted to $124.28. The board made an estimate of the probable expenses for the year and came to the conclusion that an appropriation of $18,000 would be needed. Concerning the inmates the steward made the following report: Number of inmates at last meeting, 163; admitted, 7; discharged, 2; died, 1; born, 1; present number, 168.

HULMEVILLE

Messages in song and readings were given at the homes of Mrs. Mamie Smith, Hulmeville, and Miss Hannah Plum, Bensalem township, yesterday afternoon, by a group of members of the M. E. Epworth League.

The Martini Trio will be at the Ne-shaminy M. E. Church to give selections on Sunday evening next at 7:30 o'clock. The brothers, Joseph, Leonard and William, of Bristol, are well-known instrumentalists of merit, and their programs are exceptionally pleasing. Numbers on the piano, violin and cello will be given.

At the residence of Mrs. Helen Illick, Green street, will the Women's Home Missionary Society of the M. E. Church meet on Wednesday evening. Miss Adeline E. Reetz will be hostess to members of the Peppy Pals sewing class at the home of her sister, Mrs. Richard Dunlap, tomorrow evening.

A treat is being looked forward to in the Methodist Church on Thursday evening, December 18th, when Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Pent, returned missionaries to Peru, and now making a stay in Scottsville, will speak. The couple in that South American country, and Mrs. Pent will favor with vocal solos.

BENSALEM TOWNSHIP

Ervin Mortimer is making fine headway on his new 30-foot chicken coop and hopes to have it completed soon. Mrs. Barry and sons, of Cornwells, were visitors in Philadelphia on Wednesday.

Mrs. Horace Jenkins and her daughter Laura, were visitors in Bristol on Wednesday evening.

On December 18th, the Christmas cantata and entertainment of the Ed-dington Presbyterian Church will take place in the church hall at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Sarah Mortimer was a caller at her daughters in Eddington on Thursday.

Mrs. Edward Fitch, of Eddington, visited Mrs. Harry H. Seltzer on Monday afternoon.

"Ben" Lindsey to Appear Today to Answer Charges

side" at him from the pulpit was "a frantic effort to stay what seems to be some kind of a rebellion in his church."

"I did not mean to interrupt his prayer," said the former judge, "and I thought he had finished speaking. I was not familiar with the ceremony. In my church in Denver the preacher does not pray when he finishes preaching. Bishop Manning turned away and started to leave, I thought. I heard some muttering and thought it was mild applause. I did not know he was praying. I am sorry about that.

"I stood up and demanded to be heard. I said 'If this is not a house of justice it is not a house of God.' Then they grabbed me. Someone hit me on the head. I heard women shout 'Lynch him.' Bishop Manning had worked them into a fury against me.

"Manning knew I was down there in front and he had made false statements about me. The whole thing reminded me of what I have seen at some Ku Klux Klan meeting."

Lindsey asserted Bishop Manning's attack on him was "vitriolic, unjust and vicious."

"Bishop Manning," he said, "is filled with bitterness and malice over revolt of his clergymen who recently repudiated him in refusing to accede to his demands that I be not allowed to speak before them. So he is taking it out on me."

"Since Manning misrepresented me, justice demanded that I be given a chance to reply. He used me and made false statement against me to take out his venom against his own clergy."

"It was frantic effort on Manning's part to stay what seems to be some kind of rebellion in his church. His attack on me was malicious and unworthy of such a high churchman."

Lindsey concluded:

"The result of this hubbub may be a good tonic for them to know that Bishop Manning can't be as big a tyrant as he thinks he is."

Scouts, Troop 5, Meet In New Headquarters

Troop No. 5, Boy Scouts of America, met in their new quarters, Farragut avenue, on Thursday evening and a good time was had by all.

Plans for the winter months were taken up. Mr. Foell, a troop commit-tee man, gave the boys a very interesting talk on scouting in general. Scoutmaster Berry presented each member of the troop with a membership badge in the Forest Guides of Pennsylvania.

The officers would like the parents and friends of boys in the troop to pay a visit any Thursday evening between 7:30 and 9 o'clock to see what they are doing for their sons and friends.

The troop will meet again next Thursday evening, and in regard to it, Scoutmaster Berry says: "Come out strong, boys, and we are sure to go 'over the top!'"

SHORT COMEDY with NEWS

Big kernels in small shells

IN ADDITION to the advertisements of the big department stores, of the grocery and hardware stores, of the millinery, clothing and shoe stores, there is another kind of advertising that is being read more and more by readers of this newspaper. That kind of advertising is the Classified Columns.

A man or woman wants a job. They read the "Help Wanted" columns and probably insert an advertisement of their own under "Positions Wanted." Employer and job seeker soon get together to the benefit of both. A man may want an automobile—possibly he cannot afford a new car, so he looks in the "Used Car" columns and finds just the car at the price he can afford to pay. Someone has lost a pocketbook, valuable papers or even a pet dog. The "Lost and Found" columns soon bring loser and finder together.

The Classified Columns are so arranged that anyone can readily find what he seeks quickly — business news, machinery and tools, household goods, horses, dogs, cats, canaries, etc. They enable you to locate what you are looking for in short order. So in reading advertising do not overlook the classified columns—the individual advertisements do not take up much room, but like the meaty nut they may contain a big kernel in a small shell—just for you.

Read the advertisements for your own good... classified columns as well as display advertisements gether with four antique pieces of furniture, was included in the public sale at the home of the late Miss Caroline Nesbit, during the latter part of last week.

The antique pieces including a grandfather clock, Sheridan table, mahogany chest of drawers, and a mahogany sewing stand, brought fair prices.

Haviland, Dresden and Royal Worcester were included in the pieces of china offered for sale. The collection of vases gathered throughout the past several years by Miss Nesbit was also quite large, and many present at the sale showed keen interest in these.

The sale was continued on Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons.

Frankford Defats

Bristol A. A. Eleven

ball was retired into their possession. The half ended with the ball on Bristol's 35 yard line and likewise in their possession.

The teams, almost evenly matched in ground gaining, battled up and down the field in the third quarter, with neither able to score. Frankford reached the Blue and Gold's 30 yard line in power plays, but lost the ball when the local eleven's defense stiffened, while Bristol retaliated with a sustained drive, led by Roe and Trott, that reached the visitors' 25 yard line before being halted.

In the early part of the fourth period the local boys received their last chance to score. On a long pass to Barrett by Trott the ball was advanced from Frankford's 40 yard line to the visitors' 10 yard line where after several line plunges Trott succeeded in wriggling over the goal line for the Blue and Gold's only tally during the entire game. Barrett added the extra point by receiving a short pass from Trott. Later in the period, the visitors started their last offensive attack. Opening up a powerful combination of line plunges, forwards and end runs the ball was advanced from their own 35 yard line to Bristol's 2 yard line where Walls again succeeded in wriggling over the goal for the Orange and Black's third and last touchdown. The try for the extra point failed. The final whistle found the visitors leading by the score of 20-7.

A One-cent Christmas Story

I won't buy a stick of candy.
I buy no newspapers nowadays.
I can't even go to Sunday-school alone.
I can think of more things I want to do than I am no longer allowed to do than any husband in the world.
Eleven months of the year I am good for nothing.
But in December—oh, boy!
Then I come into my own.
I buy the most beautiful decoration for a Christmas gift package.
I buy hope for the sick.
I buy health for a child.
I buy a CHRISTMAS SEAL.

The Health Seal

This is the 1930 Christmas Seal. Santa Claus has given it his official approval by uplifting his hand to emphasize the holiday greeting. "Merry Christmas—Health to All."

Nearly everybody buys Christmas Seals, which raise money to fight tuberculosis, but few know that the original Seal designed by Howard Pyle in 1907 is treasured by stamp collectors and has a value of $5.00—5000 per cent. of the original cost of one cent.

This is the twenty-fourth Seal sale. The greater part of the returns are used in the community where the money is raised.

Christmas Seals and Health Bonds are sold throughout Pennsylvania by organizations affiliated with the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society.

This is the only Christmas Seal whose proceeds are devoted to health work and the saving of lives from tuberculosis.

'Phone Co. Confident Of Prosperity Return

587,000 of its $35,000,000 State-wide budget for plant expansion projects in Eastern Pennsylvania, not including Philadelphia, next year.
Behind this substantial increase in appropriations for extension of the telephone company's facilities is the fact that its survey engineers, whose major function is to gauge future business and population trends, predict a marked increase in the number of new subscribers in 1931, as compared with 1930. Despite current conditions, they predict that the 1931 gain will be approximately 160 per cent. greater than the total for 1930.

"Not only does our 1931 budget exceed by nearly $5,000,000 our average annual outlay for new construction during the five-year period ending December 31, but our plans call for a $196,000,000 telephone expansion program during the next five years," said Mr. Kinnard.

"The fact that we have increased our appropriations for 1931 over the normal annual average is a very definite indication of our faith in our State and its future progress."

"We recently took occasion to emphasize to our employees that there is just as much business as ever for those industries and businesses which go after it. We continue to hold that view, and have made our plans accordingly."

While a large portion of the Bell Company's 1931 appropriations will be devoted to extension of central office facilities, it is planned to expend nearly one-third of the total on "outside plant." This constitutes the equipment and apparatus outside the central offices, including poles, crossarms and storm-proof aerial and underground cables. The outside plant appropriation, in round figures, is $11,500,000. Approximately $7,157,000 of this amount has been set aside for the construction of underground and aerial cable. The magnitude of the cable construction program to be carried out in Pennsylvania next year is shown by the fact that 400,000 miles of wire in storm-defying cable is scheduled for construction under the company's 1931 budget. These cables are encased in lead and strung upon short, sturdy poles. They provide so great a degree of protection against adverse weather conditions that service interruptions due to storm conditions are reduced to a minimum. It is the policy of the Bell System to extend the use of storm-proof cables wherever the volume of Parkway.

Business makes their installation economically practicable.

Nearly $5,500,000 is scheduled for expenditure on new building construction. This will include major additions to several existing offices and the construction of new offices throughout the State. The most notable building construction program scheduled to be started in 1931 involves the proposed new 22-story headquarters edifice to be erected by the telephone company at the northeast corner of 16th and Arch streets, overlooking Philadelphia's attractive

Bristol Lodge Women Attend District Meeting

Friday evening, a number of ladies from the P. O. of A. Lodge, Camp No. 89, journeyed to Frankford via automobiles, where they attended a district meeting held at Camp No. 294. The meeting was a most interesting one, the district president and the State officers being present.

Those representing the Bristol lodge were: Mrs. Louis Townsend, Mrs. Harry Carter, Mrs. Charles Mummey, Mrs. Gertrude Williams, Mrs. Hilda Albright, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Robbins, Miss Ethel Thomas, of Bristol; Mrs. May Schoenfeld, of Hulmeville; Mrs. Emily Irwin, of Crofton. There was also a delegation present from the Cornwells, Yardley and Morrisville lodges.

Idea of Demands Met By Italian Welfare Association

the Italian Welfare and its officers for their splendid accomplishments. "You stand on your own feet and you have stopped duplication and imposition."

Clifford L. Anderson, Burgess, was another speaker of the afternoon who gave unstinting praise to the Welfare Association and spoke in the highest terms of the work which it had done.

Alleged Slayer Implicates Associate

Roy Kramer, vice-president of the Kaw Valley Packing Company, Topeka, Kansas, whose dead body, found in the road beside his coupe. Virgil Pointer, under heavy cross-examination, admitted the murder, but implicated Louis Kimmel, president of the Kaw Valley Packing Company, as the master mind behind the crime.

"Bristol has been blessed in this period of depression," said the Burgess. "There have been no drastic layoffs by the local industries and employers here have attempted to spread the work out so that each would get a little."

"I am going to consult with the employers here and see that this policy is continued wherever practical."

"The employers have had their troubles and many have scarcely been able to get a dollar back for every dollar spent. Oftentimes they received less but they have tried to distribute the work among many and not to benefit a few."

President Russo asked each one present to make an effort to divide what he or she had with those who were not so fortunate. "If you are going to buy four chickens, buy only two and give the money thus saved to the Welfare. If you go to the movies three or four times a week, go just half as many times and give the money thus saved for the aid and assistance of those who are not so fortunate as yourselves."

The dinner was served in the auditorium of the hall where five large tables were spread. An entertainment program was furnished by William Spezzano and there were dancing numbers by Rocco and Sagolla, which were generously applauded.

The dinner was one of the most successful ever held by the Association.

PROTECTION FOR YOUR COMMUNITY

Tuberculosis is the enemy of all. Your safety from it lies in the health of everyone else. Education, nursing service, medical advice and children's fresh-air camps are provided by the funds from the sale of Christmas Seals—the little seal of good-will to men. Every dollar you invest in Christmas Seals is devoted to effective health protection.

HOUSE H-104

This house, in the Modern Mode breaks away from many of the old architectural rules and offers a home to meet modern ideas of living.

The design is a logical expression of the plan within. The large window in the living room are distinct elements in the exterior composition. The corner windows in the bed rooms and sleeping porch stamp their mark on the exterior while from within they offer a maximum of light and unobstructed view.

The color scheme for the exterior is light buff walls with matching trim and dark mottled roof in red and black. The terraces are paved with alternate squares of black and buff composition tile, same material as for exterior walls.
